

ABSTRACT

This invention provides a therapeutic drug for refractory injuries, comprising a substance having a human 5 leucocyte elastase inhibitory activity as an effective ingredient.